Mike,
This morning around 9:00 I called Jeff Koberstein at Columbia Univ. to inquire if he had received and signed our Declaration and POA document for his patent application. He told me that he had not, and that he was not going to sign anything for UConn anymore because UConn had violated his contract. He said that the University had not paid him according to the contract and that he does not care if the patent goes dead. He mentioned that we can call Len Paplauskas to discuss this issue. I asked him if he received the documents and he said he did not know, but that there were some envelopes there from UConn which he had not bothered to open. I have contacted Cantor Colburn to ask them how to proceed from here. They e-mailed new documents to us and said to have the documents signed again by everyone and return them to their office as soon as we received them. They asked for a copy of Koberstein's employment contract, which I discussed with Charlie. Charlie is going to call CC and speak with them regarding the issue. If there is any other information you need, let me know. Tks, Margaret
